My Right of Reply after Interview under Duress

1. Using lies, I was groomed for weeks and tricked into an interview under false pretences, by Tom and Emily from Story Films.
2. I was told the title of the film was to be “untitled documentary”.
3. When Emily stated that “there is a theory”, when presented with evidential FACTS of the children’s anal scarring, it became obvious that her intent was not connected to truth, facts and judicial evidence.
4. Channel 4 claims that I was given “sufficient information” to provide “informed consent”.
5. I am replying to the Channel 4 News Release of 24 August 2023, reproduced on the Story Films site.

Channel 4 commissions Accused: The Hampstead Paedophile Hoax from Story Films

Accused: The Hampstead Paedophile HOAX

Channel 4 has commissioned a 1x90' film that tells the shocking story of how a number of parents and teachers at a Hampstead school were accused of being part of a Satanic paedophile ring. The allegations were found to be baseless but the conspiracy theory caught fire online leading to death threats, harassment and abuse - much of which continues today.

The mothers at the heart of this chilling story speak for the first time in this ambitious feature-length documentary, which blends real archive footage and interviews, with lip-sync drama.

The story begins when videos were released online of two children, accusing parents of their friends, and teachers, of leading a paedophilic satanic cult, supposedly headquartered in secret rooms on the school premises.

The story was entirely made up, concocted by their mother's new boyfriend Abraham Christie. But once the fire was lit, it was impossible to put out. The allegations plagued the lives of the accused, footage shows screaming demonstrators chasing a vicar through Hampstead, a US conspiracy theorist flying to London to investigate and even 'rescue' the children, and online threats of kidnap and far worse. Most of this harassment was instigated by a small group of conspiracy theorists and trolls.

With the authorities unable to help, it fell on four of the accused mums, and a band of online activists, to gather evidence and build a legal case against their harassers. After 4 years of fighting to protect their children and get justice, they finally got their day in court.

With exclusive audio testimony of the accused mothers at the centre of this story, lip-synced by actors, and interviews from the conspiracy theorists, Emily Turner's film explores the real-world impact of an outrageous online conspiracy theory, exploring the importance of truth and the cost of lies.

The film will be distributed by All3 International.

Executive Producer, Peter Beard said "Emily's film is a remarkable, terrifying and timely tale. The women at the heart of this story have been so brave in letting us tell their incredible fight for justice. Their story shows that any of us could wake up one morning and find ourselves in the middle of an internet conspiracy. The question is whether we'd have the strength to fight back in the way they did."

Shaminder Nahal, Head of Specialist Factual who commissioned the film added: "Emily Turner and Story Films have made a remarkable film that is so shocking and yet so relatable - asking huge questions about truth, trauma and justice. The courage of the women at the centre of the story is extraordinary, and the impact of their testimony so profound."

When the Hampstead children's disclosure videos first went viral on the internet, many turned to Youtube to listen to their young voices speaking about horrific abuse, depravities of man that children should never know about, horrified we listened. A few short days later, February 20, 2015, the very first video claiming "It's a Hoax" came out. Uploaded by the Youtube account called "Sound Affects" at

The blog created to defend the alleged abusers, "Hoaxtead Research" on WordPress was created. "Fact-finding to refute the 'scurrilous' allegations, support the Hampstead community and expose the hoaxers" ("hoaxers", people like me who believe the children's testimonies, police interviews and that the retractions were grossly coerced) It is a place where the devil dwells...
